

January 13, 2012 – For Immediate Release

Korean Foreign Exchange Students from Chungam University to visit.

Space Logix will host students and program advisors from Chungam University on January 30th, 2012 between 4-6PM at their facility located at 301 State Street in Greensboro. The students are working in conjunction with the International Program Center Study Abroad program with UNCG. Denise Bellamy the Director of Study Abroad and Exchange Programs with UNCG, will host 24 students and 3 program advisors from Chungam University located in Daejeon, Korean while visiting Greensboro and the UNCG campus.

During their visit to Space Logix the students and their advisors will be given a tour of the facility and be given a presentation about the development of a new business by Darryl Howard, the founder of Space Logix. Mr. Howard will discuss his work at UNCG's Entrepreneurial Program in the development of the business plan for Space Logix along with the worldwide trend called "coworking".

After the tour of the facility and presentation, the visitors will enjoy a reception at the Space Logix facility hosted by UNCG and Space Logix.